The mission of Spokane Community Oriented Policing Services (C.O.P.S.) is to help promote and support an environment for a safe community. In partnership with the City of Spokane and its residents, Washington State Department of Corrections, and community stakeholders, we provide services to neighborhoods that increase volunteer efforts and improve the quality of life in the entire community.

The police-trained citizen volunteers take reports, gather information about possible drug houses, and become effective crime fighters. The volunteers establish a schedule to keep the substation open daily. Police officers use the location to write reports, meet with residents, and afford a visible presence.

“As a business owner, C.O.P.S. provides me flex-time volunteer opportunities in the neighborhood where I work”.

Jeanette Harras,
 Facilitator C.O.P.S. Logan

Since the establishment of the first shop, 12 neighborhoods have opened their own C.O.P.S. substations. In each neighborhood where a C.O.P.S. substation is operating, it becomes a focal point for citizen and business involvement.

Making a Difference

Every day, our volunteers enrich the lives of hundreds of Spokane citizens and their families by giving generously of their time, and contributing to the well-being of our community, the vitality of C.O.P.S. services, and the partnership with Spokane Police Department and Department of Corrections.

Spokane C.O.P.S. depends on hundreds of volunteers with more than 200 men, women, and students contributing over 38,000 hours annually. Our volunteers can be found throughout our 12 C.O.P.S. Substations.

Representing diverse cultures, age groups, abilities and life experiences, our volunteers compliment the professional role of police officers, correctional officers, and the business community.

Becoming a C.O.P.S. Volunteer is a great opportunity to meet new friends, participate in special events, and for gaining knowledge and experience while making a valuable contribution to your community.

Your gift of time and talents are needed to maintain the tradition of neighbor-helping-neighbor that has given Spokane's unique approach to community policing worldwide recognition.

Make this year the year that you pledge to take a little time out to fight crime!
